Funding A Cure

June 3 & 4, 2016

Lienetics Ranch | Princeton, Nebraska

We Stand Behind the Fight for a Cure

The Herbster Angus Farms program is built on honesty and value, from how we market and sell our cattle and semen, to the data turned into the American Angus Association. We package every straw of semen sold for $40 with 40 million cells per straw. The customer's conception rate and herd betterment are always first in our mind.

A Letter From the Governor

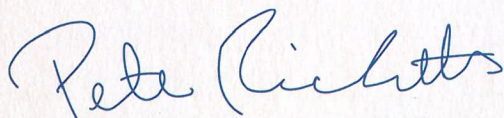

Welcome to the 19th Annual Nebraska Cattlemen's Ball.

This event is a wonderful Nebraska tradition where we come together to celebrate agriculture, the backbone of our state's economy. Livestock production is an area where Nebraska thrives. We are first in the nation in beef and veal exports, second in the nation for all cattle and calves, and we are home to the top three cattle counties in America. Agriculture is also the foundation of our cultural heritage. The values learned through agriculture are those of hard work, determination, problem-solving, and neighbor helping neighbor. Those values are what make Nebraska the best place in the world to live, work and raise a family. I have had the pleasure of attending the Cattlemen's Ball multiple years, and each event has been unique because of the dedication of the host family. A special thank you to the Lienemann family this year for everything they've done to host a wonderful weekend for a worthy cause. The Cattlemen's Ball is unique in that it is all volunteer driven and nearly 99 percent of money raised has gone directly to funding a cure for cancer through research and healthcare programs in Nebraska.

We are fortunate in Nebraska to have a cutting edge Cancer Center at UNMC in Omaha with a research tower, an infusion center, a radiation treatment facility, an inpatient cancer hospital and a multidisciplinary outpatient clinic which facilitates surgical, medical, and radiation oncology. With your participation in this event, each and every one of you are part of funding a cure for cancer and I am pleased that the event committee has announced that 90 percent of the proceeds will go to the UNMC Cancer Center.

It is an honor to serve as your Governor and to be here with you this weekend. Thank you for your generosity to this charitable effort.

Best regards,

Pete Ricketts
Governor of Nebraska

General Information

First Aid

EMT's will be on site to provide care for any medical situation. The EMT's are located north of the grounds in the Barn (see map) to assist with any medical emergency.

Payment Options

The Cattlemen's Ball will be using tokens for payment. Tokens may be purchased at the Stock Auction Token Trailer located near the Main Tent. Each token is worth $2.00. Please remember that tokens are non-refundable. Cash, check, or credit card will be accepted for purchase at the General Store, Silent Auction and Live Auctions. Payment options may vary with individual vendors.

Auctions & Bidding

Bid numbers will be assigned inside the Silent Auction Tent for those wishing to bid at the Silent Auction. Bid numbers are not required to bid at the Live Auctions. Auction items are subject to sales tax. Cash, checks and debit/credit cards will be acceptable payment for your convenience. Your prompt payment following the auction is appreciated. All bids are final. No refunds or exchanges will be made.

Serenity Garden

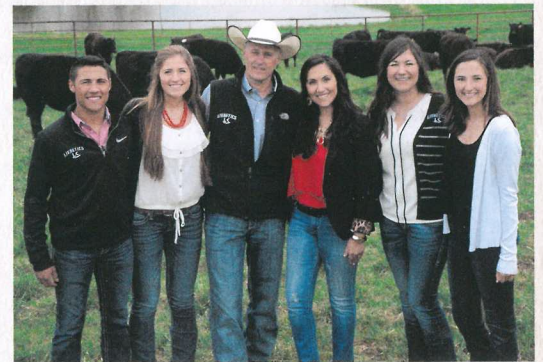

The 2016 Cattlemen's Ball welcomes you to spend time in the Serenity Garden. This is a quiet place to rest and is provided for remembering those who fought the war against cancer and those who continue to fight each and every day. The Serenity Garden reminds us of the most important reason we are here—to raise money for cancer research, to honor those who have fought the battle, and to offer hope to those still fighting cancer. Thank you to each of you for your part in helping to "Fund a Cure" for cancer!

Thank you to Clatonia Volunteer Rescue Squad and Cortland Volunteer Fire Department for providing medical services.

From the Host Family

We would like to welcome you all to the Lienetics Ranch. To the north is the future. Lincoln, a beacon of opportunity and promise. To the south is the past. Homestead National Monument of America, a reminder of where we've been and who we are. Trevor and I were not part of the early homesteading experience, but can certainly appreciate the significance of what it takes to build a life and livelihood with little to nothing at the start. We started our herd and "operation" with the purchase of six Angus cows in 1993 on a small parcel of land owned by Trevor's parents, Leon and Nelvie. Over the past 23 years, we have continued to grow our herd and diversified operations. We formed our current homestead in Southeast Nebraska in 2014. The Lienetics Ranch near Princeton, Nebraska is headquarters for our family's first generation Registered Angus cattle operation. Over the years, many things have changed but our passion and commitment to the cattle industry have not. We work very hard to ensure the highest quality for every animal which boasts the LC brand, by considering our operation's long-term business viability, stewardship of natural resources, and our responsibility to community, family, and animals.

Our cattle operation is truly a family affair. Trevor and I believe building our business as a family is one of the greatest aspects of our operation. Our four children Maci, Taylon, Sydni, and Skylar are an integral part of the cattle business; together we operate our business with a commitment to excellence. Trevor and I once heard someone say that they didn't use their children to raise their cattle; they used their cattle to raise their children. That certainly rings true for us. Through our cattle, we have been able to teach our children the value of hard work, commitment, and working for something greater than yourself.

We are grateful for the opportunity to share the experience of planning, preparing and hosting the 2016 Cattlemen's Ball of Nebraska with our children and so many close friends. We would like to thank our chairmen, Tim and DaNay Kalkowski, Ronnie and Jane Green, and Will and Tory Kerns, for all their hard work and dedication to this project. Without their efforts, and the efforts of all of our committee chairmen, none of this would have been possible. Additionally, we would like to thank Dick Miles, Ann Bruntz, Suzanne Jagles and the members of the advisory board for their support in "making this ball our own." Finally, we would like to thank Jen Duncan, our event coordinator who has put in countless hours in dedication to the success of this event. She is truly amazing, and undoubtedly the MVP of the 2016 Cattlemen's Ball of Nebraska.

With a long list of friends and family affected by cancer, we cannot express our appreciation enough for the generosity of our sponsors, donors and volunteers who are assisting in our mission to Fund a Cure. Please enjoy the weekend and know that you are part of what makes the state of Nebraska great.

— Torri and Trevor Lienemann

Advisory Board Welcome

Welcome to the 2016 Cattlemen's Ball of Nebraska. On behalf of the Advisory Board, I thank you for your part in this great event. We are here to support cancer research and enjoy delicious beef here at the Lienetics Ranch in Lancaster County. The Cattlemen's Ball of Nebraska has teamed up with the Fred & Pamela Buffett Cancer Center to support this fund raising event.

The Cattlemen's Ball of Nebraska is happy to introduce the Trevor and Torri Lienemann family as this year's host. The local chairpersons for the 2016 Ball are Tim and DaNay Kalkowski, Ronnie and Jane Green and Will and Torri Kerns. The host, chairpersons and all of the volunteers have made this event possible. A big thank you to all of them.

Thank you to all of the donors that have made this event possible. Be sure to look at all of the auction items, decorations and activities. Enjoy all the great food and once again thank you for your support and generosity in funding cancer research.

Enjoy your day here at the Lienetics Ranch. We will see you next year on June 2 & 3, 2017 at the Lonesome River Ranch in Custer County. Jeff and Lisa Johnson of Anselmo, Nebraska (near Broken Bow) have graciously agreed to host the 2017 Cattlemen's Ball of Nebraska.

Cancer Research

Thank you for attending the 2016 Cattlemen's Ball of Nebraska and "funding a cure!" We are very fortunate to be here at the beautiful Lienetic's Ranch in Princeton for this outstanding event.

Your support for the Cattlemen's Ball of Nebraska benefits the Fred & Pamela Buffett Cancer Center in several ways. Pilot research projects, which develop preliminary results necessary for Cancer Center scientists to submit larger national grant applications, are made possible with Cattlemen's Ball funds. Competitive start-up packages, crucial to recruiting and retaining the brightest and most talented cancer researchers, are made possible through the Cattlemen's Ball. Cattlemen's Ball funds are also utilized to support specialized equipment that is shared by scientists at the Fred & Pamela Buffett Cancer Center. Finally, the state-wide clinical trials program, which provides access to all cancer clinical trials to patients across the state, is generously supported by funds from the Cattlemen's Ball. On behalf of the faculty and staff of the Fred & Pamela Buffett Cancer Center, thank you for your generous gifts.

The next year will be one of exciting change, as the new Fred & Pamela Buffett Cancer Center facility will open in the spring of 2017. Featuring state-of-the-art laboratories and technology, the Cancer Center will draw patients, new faculty and top students to UNMC, and establish the Fred & Pamela Buffett Cancer Center as one of the nation's best centers for research and the treatment of cancer. When completed, the Suzanne and Walter Scott Research Tower will stand at ten stories and contain ninety-eight state-of-the-art laboratories. Each floor will be dedicated to a different area of cancer research. The seven-story C.L. Werner Cancer Hospital will contain one hundred and eight inpatient beds, and was designed with input from a Patient Advisory Council.

In closing, I cannot express enough gratitude to those who worked so diligently to make this year's Cattlemen's Ball a success. Thank you to this year's hosts, the Trevor and Torri Lienemann family, for your hospitality and dedication to this event. I would also like to express my gratitude to honorary chairs Mike and Stephanie Johanns, and event chairs Ronnie and Jane Green, Tim and DaNay Kalkowski and Will and Tory Kerns. Many thanks to the members of the Cattlemen's Ball Advisory Board for your leadership.

Enjoy the 2016 Cattlemen's Ball of Nebraska, and thank you again for "funding a cure!"

Thank you to Merck Animal Hospital for sponsoring our volunteers and cancer survivors.

Co-Chair Welcome

Just to the south of the Lienetics Ranch down the Homestead Expressway lies the corner of southeastern Nebraska where some of our country's first homesteaders came with hearts full of hope and a desire to create a new life in this state. We hope that this year's ball will be a memorable, hope-filled experience for each of you as we join together as a community to help "fund a cure" for cancer and defeat the suffering and loss it brings into our lives.

It has been our honor to help further the purpose of the Cattlemen's Ball of Nebraska in promoting beef and showcasing rural Nebraska while raising funding for cancer research. Ninety percent of the proceeds from the Ball will be awarded to the Fred and Pamela Buffett Cancer

DaNay and Tim Kalkowski

Jane and Ronnie Green

Center at the Nebraska Medical Center, while ten percent will stay in this community to benefit local healthcare organizations.

For many months, hundreds of volunteers have worked with the same determination and enthusiasm as those hard-working homesteaders of earlier days to prepare this event and to remind you that our ultimate goal is to eradicate cancer. We thank them for their countless hours and their outstanding efforts. We now ask you for your help with this effort. It is your opportunity to "cowboy up" to speed this process with your time and your money!

We especially ask that you attend the style show where our guest models are people who have personally walked the rough road of cancer. We encourage you to thoughtfully watch the videos: you will be inspired by the stories of cancer survivors! We want you to note the Promise Petals tributes to those who have faced cancer and persevered...and those who fought their battles bravely but lost. These are the people for which we are fighting our battle against cancer!

Will and Torri Kerns

Thank you to the Lienemann family for being such gracious hosts, and thank you for making the trip to southeast Nebraska to join us in support of this important cause. May you leave knowing that you have given of yourself to bring hope to many!

Friday – Trail Boss Reception

5:00 p.m. | Innovation Campus

Come join us at 4:00 p.m. to tour the recently dedicated Nebraska Innovation Campus (NIC). See and experience the state-of-the-art renovations to the historic buildings and new additions on the former State Fair Park. From an up-close-and-personal walk through Nebraska Innovation Studio, to the pilot plant space in the Food Innovation Center, to the cutting-edge Greenhouse Innovation Center, you will be able to see the amazing work being done right here in the state of Nebraska. In addition, you will be able to meet and talk with some of the innovative businesses that call NIC home. Using our self-guided tour map, you can explore the facility at your own pace.

When you finish your tour, you are just a short walk to the “big” tent where you will experience a great meal, great entertainment and a lively auction conducted with the help of some of our own Husker coaching staff. We are sure you will enjoy this great opportunity to tour one of the premier research facilities in the country and we promise some fun surprises along the way!

Susan Werner

After launching her career with the self-released Midwestern Saturday Night in 1993, her second recording Live at Tin Angel impressed executives at Private Music/BMG, which released her critically acclaimed major label debut Last of the Good Straight Girls in 1995. Werner has toured the nation with acts such as Richard Thompson, Keb Mo, and Joan Armatrading, and was featured in a 1998 Peter, Paul, and Mary PBS special as one of the best of the next generation of folk songwriters.

Werner's latest album, Hayseed, shares stories about agriculture and her family farm. About Hayseed, Werner notes: "Everything was mandolin and banjo and upright bass and fiddle, a sound that's as — forgive the term, but it finally applies — organic as a sound can get." The album was commissioned by the University of Nebraska's Lied Center for the Performing Arts and the Institute of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Over the course of her colorful career, Susan has cultivated a reputation as a daring and innovative songwriter with an incredible live show. Her talented band includes Adam Chaffins on the vocals and bass and Adam Davis on the lap steel, mandolin, electric guitar, and vocals.

Susan will give us a taste of her music at Friday night's event at Nebraska Innovation Campus. Be sure to join us at the Saturday Champagne breakfast for many more songs as we laugh, cry and marvel in the talent of Susan Werner. For more information on Susan's music, see susanwerner.com.

Clint Black

It is one of the most storied careers in modern music. Clint Black surged to superstardom as part of the fabled Class of '89, reaching #1 with five consecutive singles from his triple-platinum debut, Killin' Time. He followed that with the triple-platinum Put Yourself in My Shoes, and then a string of platinum and gold albums throughout the '90s. Perhaps most impressively, Clint wrote or co-wrote every one of his more than three dozen chart hits, including "A Better Man," "Where Are You Now," "When My Ship Comes In," "A Good Run of Bad Luck," "Summer's Comin'," "Like the Rain" and "Nothin' But the Taillights," part of a catalog that produced 22 #1 singles and made him one of the most successful singer/songwriters of the modern era.

Along the way, Clint has sold over 20 million records, earned more than a dozen gold and platinum awards in the U.S. and Canada, landed nearly two dozen major awards and nominations, including more than a dozen Grammy nominations, and earned a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

Matt Gary

17 Music Entertainment and Nashville
Recording Artist Matt Gary is excited to be included in this year's 2016 Nebraska Cattlemen's Ball. Matt is originally from Kansas City, where he developed his passion for music before making the move to Nashville, TN and has been dubbed as one of CMA's (Country Music Association) who's new to watch. Matt is currently all over the country touring and promoting his music, while in the studio finishing up his debut album.

Forgotten Hwy

The perfect harmony between today's modern country hits and yesterday's country classics, Forgotten Highway prides itself on being able to successfully walk the line between the two worlds. Combining the guitar sounds of the 1950s and integrating them with modern country and acoustic instruments has given Forgotten Highway one of the most unique country voices on the music scene today.

Style Show

Saturday | 2:00 p.m. – 3:00 p.m.

The Style Show is a highlight of the Cattlemen's Ball of Nebraska. Each year, the Style Show features cancer survivors and current warriors as models. Our models have fought and continue to fight life threatening forms of cancer from neuroblastoma to osteosarcoma and range in age from 4 to 88.

Many of our models have benefitted from the life-saving care provided by the UNMC Fred & Pamela Buffett Cancer Center. Our models and their families feel fortunate to have a National Cancer Institute - Designated Cancer Center right in their backyards. This emotional event not only displays the bravery of survivors and the support of loving family members, but also the impact the funds raised through the Cattlemen's Ball have had on our fellow Nebraskans.

This exciting and emotional show features fashions for everyone regardless of occasion. Each vendor and designer hails from southeast Nebraska and has committed their support to "Funding a Cure."

This year's runway will change colors reflecting the types of cancer the model survived and/or is currently battling. In the Saloon Tent, prior to the Style Show, models will be highlighted in a slideshow depicting their journey.

"This is what the Ball is all about."

Promise Petals

Sponsored by Brent & Doreen Frieauf

Just as the Homestead Act brought settlers a promise for a brighter future, so the 2016 Nebraska Cattlemen's Ball Promise Petals program represents a promise...a promise that those who have suffered from cancer will not be forgotten as funds are raised to eradicate future cancer.

Those purchasing tickets for the ball had the option of also purchasing a Promise Petals centerpiece to remember or support a loved one who has suffered from cancer. Each person who purchased a Promise Petals centerpiece was also encouraged to send a photo of his/her loved one that will be displayed in a video at the ball. Special centerpieces were then created for the Trail Boss tables and each person who purchased a Promise Petals centerpiece may take one of these home after the Saturday night dinner.

Serenity Spurs

Featured for the first time at the 2013 Ball the iconic Serenity Spurs have become synonymous with the Cattlemen's Ball of Nebraska. The spurs travel the state marking the location of the current year's ball.

The spurs are made of carbon steel with a patina, and when stacked are 6' x 18' and weigh approximately one ton. They were created by Shannon Hansen, formerly of Ogallala, now residing in Lincoln. He is currently the welding program chairman for Southeast Community College at Milford. Hansen has shown work in the Modern Arts Midtown Gallery in Omaha as well as in Lincoln art galleries.

Beau Mathewson

Beau Mathewson is a third generation rancher from Potter, NE. He has been very active in both community activities, and in statewide agricultural advocacy. After graduating from the University of Wyoming with a degree in Agricultural Business and Farm and Ranch Management, he embarked on his dream, which was to manage the family ranch. Beau and his family have received many conservation awards for their constant improvement of their lands, with an eye to sustainability and best-practices based management. In 2011, Beau and company were awarded with the Leopold Conservation Award for their contributions to conservation. Beau has also been named one of the Top 10 Cattlemen Under 40 by Cattle Business weekly. Beau speaks often on behalf of sustainable grazing and conservation at industry conferences. He is or has been involved with; Sidney First United Methodist Church as a Youth Group leader, Cheyenne County Extension Board, Cheyenne County Fund board member, and is a member of the Potter volunteer Fire Department. Kahla Mathewson is originally from Hildreth, Nebraska and received a Computer Science Information Systems degree from UNK. In 2000, she ventured out and moved west to work for Cabela's. She met her Beau at a friend's card party in 2005, and shortly thereafter, began dating. In 2010, they were married. Kahla is the Digital Analytics manager for Cabela's and is involved with many community activities as well. Coming from a small town in Central Nebraska, she realizes the importance of community involvement. Beau and Kahla have been involved with the Night of Hope Cancer Walk as both participants and fundraisers. They were instrumental in combining the youth groups from their churches to create a more open and effective group. Beau and Kahla enjoy traveling, hunting, fishing, the outdoors, kayaking, mountain and road biking, and activities with friends and family. Beau's cancer diagnosis has caused them to have an incredibly strong bond; and the quest for a cure motivates them to do all they can for cancer research.

Jentry Schell

Jentry Schell is the daughter of Jon and Jennifer Schell. She attends Wymore Southern School and is in the sixth grade. Jentry has a 15-year-old brother J.W. and a 7-year-old sister Jazlyn. She is a member of the 3-G's 4H club. She enjoys barrel racing her horses, Cowboy and Kate. Jentry also enjoys playing basketball and volleyball. Jentry has a 6-month-old Australian Shepherd puppy named Frosty who is her pride and joy. On February 10, 2015, Jentry was diagnosed with Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia and started intensive treatments at Children's Hospital and Medical Center in Omaha. Her treatment will continue until June 2017. Jentry is a very positive little girl. She has managed to continue to do all the things she wants to do, even though sometimes she doesn't feel 100%. Throughout treatment, she has attended school when she can. She has played volleyball and basketball and competed on her horses. Jentry recently received a Gift of Life Hero award from the American Red Cross for promoting blood drives in our area. Every day, 46 kids are diagnosed with cancer. Every day, 7 children will die from cancer. 1 in 330 children will develop cancer by age 20. Treatment side effects can last a lifetime for these kids. Only 4% of federal government cancer research funding goes to children. Cancer affects everyone, and it's up to everyone to support the important research needed to find a cure.

Ashli Brehm

Ashli Brehm grew up just south of here in Wilber, NE, and is a graduate of Wilber-Clatonia. She then attended the University of Nebraska-Lincoln where she received a bachelors of Journalism in Advertising, was a member of Phi Mu sorority, and also, met her dashing husband, Adam Brehm. After a brief time of living in Austin, the couple returned to put roots down in Omaha. Ashli worked in non-profit fundraising for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation, and Adam is an IT Architect with Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Nebraska. Ashli stays home with her three little boys, Barrett (7), Jonah (4), and Harrison (2). She loves writing, playing her guitar, spending time with her very best friends, any time she can have with her family, taking naps with Adam, and looks forward to traveling again once treatment is completely over—hopefully to warm, sandy beaches.

Ashli found a lump in her breast right before Labor Day of 2015. She scheduled an appointment with her GP, Dr. Saxena, for that week. When she saw her, Dr. Saxena immediately ordered a mammogram then an ultrasound. After three weeks and two biopsies, it was determined that Ashli had invasive breast cancer with a lymphovascular invasion. She receives all of her care at Nebraska Medicine from Dr. Tandra, Dr. Thayer and Dr. Wahl. She underwent a bilateral mastectomy in February and just completed radiation last week. As of now, Ashli has no evidence of disease and is thrilled!

The most important things for me while going through treatment was the support I received from friends and family in order to keep our family running and also, the ability to write and share my story. It is my hope moving forward that I can educate individuals on knowing their bodies and seeing a physician with some regularity. Ashli had no family history of cancer, no smoking in the past, had breastfed three boys and was only 33 years of age. Anyone can get breast cancer. It is so important to try to catch it early. It is also my hope to spread goodness to people!!! Nebraska Medicine has exceeded her expectations in their approach to patient care.

This is why she is thrilled for the Buffett Center to come to fruition, putting doctors and researchers together in a building can only lead to greater advancements in trials, treatments, and drug development. Research is the only way we will get to the next step—a cure for cancer, and having that facility right here in Nebraska is such an incredible gift.

Ashli is beyond thankful to everyone involved in the Cattlemen's Ball of Nebraska, Inc. for their contributions to this outstanding event. She believes that money is what buys science to save lives and the amount of research that the Cattlemen's Ball funds each year is humbling for a young woman like Ashli, who has lived with the disease, but does not have the means individually to fund such an incredible research organization. Thank you so much for choosing to support the Buffett Cancer Center and help patients like Ashli live each day.

Kris Bousquet

My name is Kristopher Bousquet, age 26, from South Sioux City, NE. I grew up on a diversified farming operation where we milked 165 head of dairy cattle, farmed 2,500 acres of crop ground, and raised 250 head of cow calf pairs. Currently, I work for the Nebraska Air National Guard as a KC-135 Stratotanker Crew Chief, and have served with them for the last seven years. I spent my childhood working on the farm with my father and two brothers. I am a member of the 2016 Cattlemen's Ball opening ceremonies committee and have been the military adviser to the ball.

I was diagnosed with Chronic Myelogenous Leukemia on March 27, 2015, when I was on my last spring break as a University of Nebraska-Lincoln student. I was having symptoms of CML for months before I was diagnosed. On the afternoon of March 26, I was back home helping around the farm when I told my dad about the symptoms I was experiencing. He told me to get to the doctor as soon as possible. My doctor's office did blood work and said if you don't hear from us, no news is good news. Unfortunately, they called the next morning, saying that I needed to come in ASAP. I met with Dr. Michael Hattan. He said your white blood cell count is extremely high, Leukemia high--a normal white blood cell count is 5,000, and yours is 380,000. Dr. Hattan contacted a specialist from UNMC and they believe you have Acute Myelogenous Leukemia and we need to start treatment today.

I would be graduating with my Bachelor Degree from UNL in a month, then going home to farm with my Dad, then God brought me down from the clouds. My parents and I dealt with this shock. Everyone at UNMC was extremely nice, understanding, very professional and quick to complete my tests. Luckily for me, the bone marrow and bone fragment test came back CML work, CT scans, MRIs, and ECHOs to monitor her progress. If she remains NED, she will complete her maintenance phase of treatment in May of 2019. If she relapses, she will not survive. To date, there is no treatment for relapsed Neuroblastoma. There will be approximately 250 children to die from cancer today worldwide. That's one day. There will be another 250 tomorrow, and the next day, and the next day.

Leyna would not be here today without the advances that have been made in cancer treatment through research. The ground-breaking immunotherapy treatments that Leyna received took her prognosis from a 25% chance of survival to a 40-45% chance! While the odds still aren't fabulous, we believe that an extra 15-20% is HUGE in the area of childhood cancer, and particularly for our daughter. In 80% of childhood cancer diagnoses, the cancer has already spread. Physicians are fighting to save kids that are more often than not, already stage III or IV at the time of diagnosis.

Along with research being done to find the cure for cancer, Leyna's mother believes there needs to be more research conducted for better and safer treatment options. Many children with cancer don't actually die from cancer, but from the treatments themselves! "Our child received many of the same chemotherapy drugs that an adult man with prostate cancer would receive. We are asking our tiny 18 lb babies to withstand the same treatments that a grown man would endure!" Cancer is the #1 disease killer of children in the United States. It claims the lives of more children than asthma, AIDS, cystic fibrosis, diabetes, and congenital anomalies combined. Pediatric cancer receives only 4% of the federal funding set aside for cancer research. It is safe to say that childhood cancer of every type is grossly underfunded! Part of producing cutting edge treatments for cancer includes being able to recruit the most brilliant minds to the field of cancer research. Without the facilities and the funding for research, children like Leyna are going to continue to die without ever having had a chance to really live!

Marcia Henning

I was born and raised in Crete, NE. I graduated from Crete High and went on to study at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. I received my master's degree in speech/language pathology and recently worked in this field for Norris Public Schools. I have currently resigned from this position to pursue opportunities to assist others who are battling cancer.

I married my high school sweetheart, Ray Henning. We will be celebrating our 39th wedding anniversary in July. We live on an acreage near Roca, NE, and it is where we raised three wonderful children. Drew and his wife Annie, Joy and her husband Tyler and TJ, along with our 3 grandchildren are the light of our lives! In addition to being with our growing family, I love to be with friends, exercise, go for leisurely bike rides (which results in an ice cream treat), experience the ocean and the mountains, shop for bargains and most importantly grow in the knowledge of my Lord and Savior.

I had a stomach ache that had been bothering me and thought I should probably follow through with seeing a doctor. So in April of 2012, I had a colonoscopy to see what might be causing the stomach discomfort. To my surprise, I learned over the next few days that I had advanced lymphoma. A sense of shock and numbness is what I recall most, as well as being very frightened. Fortunately, I was able to have an amazing oncologist (Dr. Madu Midathada of Lincoln Hematology and Oncology) manage my treatment plan, which involved a difficult chemo regime over a six month period in order to prepare me for a stem cell transplant to be conducted at UNMC.

Another most wonderful blessing is that my transplant was under the direction of Dr. James Armitage of UNMC. I was told and found to be true, that I was in the best place—in the world—to receive a stem cell transplant! Thanks be to God. I am present and I am strong! When diagnosed, I discovered that I had six months to a year to live. The fight was immediate, difficult, long and frightening. Again, thanks be to God for the advances that have been made.

The protocol for Mantle Cell Lymphoma has advanced to the point that lives can be saved! Countless people went before me and did not survive. Research is continuing and within the past year, advances have been made regarding my particular lymphoma. I've been encouraged to learn that should my cancer return, there is now another option for me, one that would be less extensive—one that may not require another stem cell transplant. This does calm my heart—knowing there are individuals on the front line working to further the advances in cancer treatment. If that doesn't call for an Amen...I don't know what does!!! My story is one I'm encouraged to share.

As difficult as it was, I have had the most amazing outcome and for that I am and will be eternally grateful. I'm grateful for all who teamed together to bring me through—of course this includes not only my family and precious friends but the entire Oncology Community whose mission is to bring hope to patients and their families in order that they may beat this horrible disease. Thank you all from the bottom of my heart!

Austin Granowitz

I am 23 years old and am currently a medical student at the University of Nebraska Medical Center. I am from Firth, Nebraska and attended Norris High School. I completed my undergraduate at Morningside College, in Sioux City, IA, where I played football. I really enjoy being outside, playing sports, snowboarding and playing with my dog.

Throughout my freshmen year and the beginning of my sophomore year in college, I continued to get large bruises which would take forever to go away. On September 24, 2012, I was sent to the team doctor for some routine blood work. The doctor called my cell phone that night and asked if it would be possible to have my parents come up the next day to discuss the results, and shortly after that my parents had called to inform me that we would be meeting at the University of Nebraska Medical Center. After a long day of tests and waiting, I was diagnosed with Chronic Myeloid Leukemia on September 25, 2012 at the age of 20.

After being diagnosed I immediately started my treatments and was sidelined from playing football for the remainder of my sophomore season. The football team decided to dedicate a game towards raising awareness for leukemia, with the proceeds going to the leukemia and lymphoma society. The next year, I was able to return to playing football and the whole college dedicated a week towards raising awareness with the proceeds going to the American Cancer Society this time. I have since been given the opportunity to volunteer at a number of different camps for kids with cancer and seeing the bravery of the young kids early in my treatment helped to change my outlook on the disease.

Being diagnosed with cancer at a young age has given me a different perspective on life, as well as the chance to meet some very inspirational people of all ages and awarded me the opportunity to spread awareness myself. Due to the efforts of the entire medical staff at Nebraska Medicine, and researchers around the world, I was declared cancer free on December 21, 2015. Although there isn't a detectable cancer cell in my body, I continue to take medication as a precaution and hope to be part of a clinical trial to see what happens when patients discontinue the medication.

Upon completion of my medical doctorate degree, I hope to be able to help my future patients in the same way the doctors at Nebraska Medicine helped me. Without the development of targeted treatment, I may not be here today. Before the approval of drugs designed to treat Chronic Myeloid Leukemia (CML) in 2001, CML patients were given approximately five years to live. Today with the help of targeted therapy, CML patients have relatively normal life expectancies with fewer and fewer complications. I was very fortunate in my diagnosis and the availability for treatment but that cannot be said for other cancers. With the help of donors and researchers, we can discover other targeted therapies for cancers, giving patients with once deadly diseases the opportunity to live a normal life.

Being diagnosed with cancer is scary, but it doesn't have to be. Because of the effectiveness of my treatment, I was able to turn my diagnosis into something positive and use it to get to meet and interact with some amazing people. On the day of my diagnosis, my doctor pulled me aside before leaving and said "welcome to the fight." I'll never forget that. Today I would like to welcome all of you and thank you for your commitment to the fight against cancer whether it be emotional support, financial or conducting research—thank you.

Whiplash The Cowboy Monkey

Whiplash The Cowboy Monkey is truly a fan favorite, 3-Time Pro Rodeo Entertainer of the Year, and an international star who has been putting smiles on faces for years. Whiplash is a Capuchin Monkey who has been riding since he was two years old. He travels the country herding wild Barbados sheep at rodeos and events. Whiplash never misses a chance to show his skills and cowboy spirit as he rides his trusty Border Collie mount, Boogie.

Whiplash has entertained crowds at rodeos, ball games and events all across North America and Europe. In 2004, he starred in a series of television advertisements for the fast food chain Taco John's. He has also appeared on ESPN, Good Morning America and The Today Show. In 2009, Whiplash was knighted in St. Paul, Minn., by the St. Paul Winter Carnival royalty near the Xcel Energy Center as part of the Toughest Cowboy event.

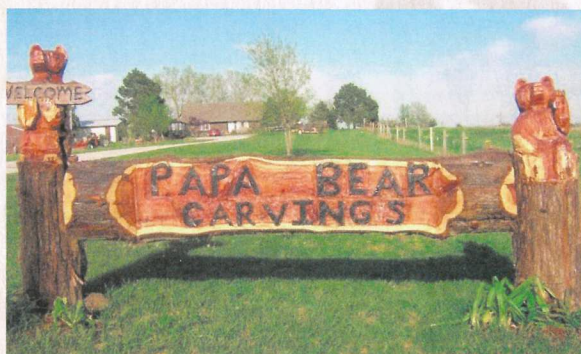

Activities

Shoe Shining

Shoe shining provided by Ole's Boot & Shoe Repair. Jay and Stephanie Haes, owners of Ole's Boot & Shoe Repair in the Piedmont shopping center in Lincoln, NE were kind enough to donate all of their supplies and services to this year's Ball. Like many of us, the Haes family has been directly affected by cancer. Their son, Elliot Haes, is currently in remission after receiving treatment from the University of Nebraska Medical Center. Get your boots looking like new again with professional shoe shiners at your service!

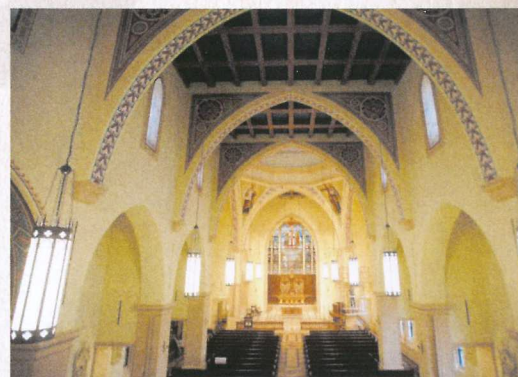

Papa Bear Carving

Live chainsaw carving demonstrations by Papa Bear Carvings. Nick Jensen is the owner and artist behind Papa Bear Carvings out of Grand Island. Nick has agreed to generously donate his carvings made at and before the Ball to the auction to ultimately contribute to the main goal of raising money for cancer research.

Saturday Mass

Father Mills, priest at The University of Nebraska's beautiful St. Thomas Aquinas - Newman Center will be conducting mass in the saloon tent at 4:00 p.m.

Activities

Kent Rollins - Chuckwagon Cook

In 1996, the governor of Oklahoma proclaimed Kent the Official Chuck Wagon of Oklahoma. Kent has since made numerous television appearances including the Food Network's highly rated shows, Throwdown! with Bobby Flay, where he beat Flay with his chicken fried steak, Chopped Grill Masters and Chopped Redemption. He also holds an undefeated record on NBC's Food Fighters and most recently was featured on CBS Sunday Morning. At the Cattlemen's Ball, Rollins will be showing cooking demonstrations on some of his best recipes and ways to properly prepare beef in a healthy light.
